NEW CUBAN GOVERNOR

PASSES QUIET SUNDAY

Havana, Oct. 15—Charles E. Magons's first day as governor of Cuba passed quietly. The palace was singularly still, compared with the eventful days of the recent regime.

The governor remarked to the Associated Press correspondent that he was looking forward with confidence to a peaceful administration.

He expressed the warmest appreciation of the work accomplished by Messrs Taft and Bacon, both in the pacification of the island and laying of the foundation for a smooth and successful term of the provisional government. He sees no reason to anticipate further changes in the situation or any specially sensational incident. He is rather of the opinion that now governmental matters will be of the commonplace order compared to the exciting and rapid succession of developments
of the last two months.

The last demonstration of welcome
to returning ex-rebels took place here yesterday upon the arrival of Julius Betancourt, who was formerly Pino
Guerra's chief of staff.

Gen. J. Franklin Bell intends to distribute a battalion of engines throughout the island for the purpose of verifying, correcting and completing the large army map of Cuba, begun during the former intervention, but not completed except for the province of Havana and Matanzas.

THE NEW SEASON'S FASHIONS ARE HERE.

From our beginning in Ada it has been our ambition to be foremost in the Clothing line.
This season we are abreast with the times.
We are showing a wide range of fashions, clothing for men and young men, coming from the best makers of Fine Tailored Clothing. Our line of Suits, Top Coats, and Cravenettes contains all of the latest creations, styles and fabrics. The styles of the coats are long and shaped at the waist; the skirts have flares, the sleeves are with cuffs and without. The effect is graceful and dressy. You are cordially invited to see our line of prevailing styles of Hand Made Clothing made by Michael Stern of Rochester, New York.

COUNCIL EMPLOYES THE O'NEIL CO., AS ENGINEERS

So weighty are our municipal affairs waxing that it's getting to be no unusual thing for the city council to burn the midnight fuse. At its regular meeting Monday night the council again
deliberated until near the small hours.

The paramount business was the selection of an engineer to plan and supervise the enlargement of the water works plant; but while a tardy councilman was awaited some gas franchise
propositions were heard.

Mr. Greenleaf of the Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, addressed the body.
He explained that his company were large oil and gas operators in the territory, having sunk over a hundred wells and that they were desirous to test the field in this vicinity; that if granted an exclusive gas franchise they would proceed soon to sink a test well near by; and failing to find gas here they would agree to pipe gas into the city from the nearest outside field. He read a proposed franchise which recited: Life of franchise 25 years; price of gas to public 35 cents per 1000 cubic feet, 50 cents a month to be consumer's minimum consumption; must be supplying gas to the city in twenty-four months; free gas for city hall and library; to begin sinking of well in 90 days.

Then a similar proposition from E.
W. Hardin was read by the city clerk.

The franchise submitted by Mr.
Hardin was similar in terms to that of Mr. Greenleaf, save it placed the maximum price of gas at 25 cents per 1000;
75 cents a month for city street lamps;
pipe laying to begin within 90 days
after discovery of gas supply; well drilling to begin in 120 days after franchise is granted; $8,000 to be expended by grantee in improvement
first year and at least $1,000 a year
thereafter; city may purchase the property after ten years operation; 1 per cent of gross receipts to be paid the city for franchise; grantee pledged to join no trust.

Judge C. A. Galbraith and M. D.
Timberlake each informed the council
he was also in correspondence with a responsible party who desired to apply for a like gas franchise. No action was taken by the council.

All councilmen being present the floor was again extended to the two competing engineers, Mr. Green, of Earl & Green Muskogee, and Mr.
O'Neil of O'Neil Engineering Company, Dallas. By midnight the members of the council having previously considered the matter pretty thorowly, were informed in the premises as thoroughly as it is possible for laymen
to master the difficult technique of engineering plans, therefore they proceeded to a vote.

Nettles moved that the plans and specifications of both firms be rejected and the council readvertise. It was seconded by McFarland. On the motion these two and Barton voted "yes," the other five councilmen and mayor voted
"no."

It was then moved by Ebey, seconded by Timberlake, that the plans and specifications of O'Neil be accepted and he be employed as engineer in the enlargement of the water works plant.
The motion prevailed by a vote of 7 to
2, Barton and Nettles voting "no."

It would take a proficient engineer to write an appreciative comparison of the two sets of plans and specifications and estimates submitted by the competing engineers. Suffice to say the plans and estimates for the big dam showed the chief difference. Mr.
Green advocated a "crib" dam composed chiefly of timber cribs filled with rock, whereas Mr. O'Neil urged a dam built of concrete.

The former's estimate for his crib
dam, 30 feet high and all other waterworks outlay was $35,550. The latter's corresponding estimate—the dam being of concrete—was $32,878. The respective estimates were guaranteed to cover the total expenditure. Mr.
Green wanted 4 3-4 per cent of cost for engineer's fees, Mr. O'Neil 5 per cent.

At the next meeting the council will enter into a formal, detailed contract with the O'Neil Engineering Company.

SAM JONES, THE GREAT EVANGELIST PASSES AWAY

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 16.—Rev.
Sam P. Jones, the well known evangelist of Cartersville, Ga., died yesterday of heart failure in a sleeping car on train No. 4 of the Rock Island railroad near Perry, Ark.

Mr. Jones had been conducting a most successful revival at Oklahoma City and left there Sunday night for his home in Georgia. He desired to attend a family reunion today, it being the fifty-ninth anniversary of his birth.

Mrs. Jones and his daughters, Mrs.
Annie Pyron and Miss Julia Jones,
were with him when he passed away.

Mr. Jones arose from his berth in the sleeping car at about 5 o'clock and complained of sickness in his stomach.
He drank a glass of hot water and immediately afterward collapsed. Rev.
Walter Holcomb, who has been associated with Mr. Jones for a number of years, took the dying man in his arms and in a few minutes the evangelist breathed his last.

The body has been embalmed and shipped to Cartersville where interment will be made.

Services at Cartersville will be conducted by Rev. George Stuart, Rev.
Bowen of Mississippi and Rev.
H. H. Ab.

Samuel Porter Jones, evangelist, bearing the title of local preacher in
the Methodist Episcopal Church South,
was born in Chambers county, Ala., Oct. 16, 1847. He removed to Cartersville, Ga., in 1859, studied under private tutors and at boarding schools and was admitted to the Georgia bar in 1869, beginning the practice of law. His professional work, according to his statements, was interfered with to such an extent by his intemperate habits that his business was destroyed. In 1872, after the death of his father, he was converted to Christianity and joined the Methodist church, soon entering the ministry as a traveling preacher in connection with the North Georgia annual conference, continuing until 1880.
He founded, organized, supported and served as agent for the Decatur Orphan's Home from 1881 to 1893.

Taking up revivalistic work after 1892, Rev. Jones traveled extensively over the South, engaging in holding special revival services. He was also in demand as a lecturer and was frequently engaged at summer Chautauqua meetings.

"Sam Jones' Sermons," edited by himself, has been and is still widely read throughout the United States.
"Quit Your Meanness," "The Music Hall Series," "Sam Jones' Own Book"
and "St. Louis Series, Thunderbolts," are other books written by the well-known evangelist.

Little Danger Of Race Suicide Among Oklahoma Babies

Washington, Oct. 15—Babies are more numerous among the Klowa, Comanche and Apache Indians in Oklahoma than the Indian bureau officials had expected to find when the allotment of the lands preparatory to the opening of their reservation was begun.
The final report of J. P. Blackman of Anadarko, the Kiowa agent, just received showed that allotments had been made to 513 children born into the three tribes since June 6, 1900,
and up to October 8, 1906. No race suicide prevails there, and no papoose was over looked by its parents when it was found that the lands could be realized on.

DEATH OF MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS HOURLY EXPECTED

New York Oct. 15—Mrs. Jefferson Davis, widow of the President of Confederate States, is dying of pneumonia at the Hotel Majestic here. It is believed that she can not survive more than a few hours. Mrs. Davis has been ill several days, but it has been believed that she would recover up to last night, when a sudden change for the worse was noticed.

Mrs. Davis went to the Majestic hotel a short time ago upon her return from the Adirondacks, where she spent most of the summer. The day she reached town she was stricken with a severe cold, which induced pneumonia.
Her marvelous vitality, however gave hope of ultimate recovery until last evening, when her physician announced the end was near. Nearby relatives were summoned to the hotel and those
at a distance notified.

Wanted Him Far Away

A senator from a central Western state sought an interview with the
the president asking him to appoint to a foreign consulate an applicant to whom the senator was in some way bound, but who was heartily disliked by reason of his offensive persistence in seeking favors.

"Where do you want him sent?" the senator was asked.

At this the senator took a step or two to the center of the room, where stood a large globe. Putting one arm around it as far as he could reach the senator said:

THAT GAS QUESTION.

There bids fair to be a spirited rivalry to secure a gas franchise from the city of Ada. Already there are two formal applications before the council, with more to follow.

With gas and oil fields above us and below us, there is strong probability of there being valuable deposits beneath us. There is such probability as should encourage a capitalist at all speculative to make a thorough test of this region. Particularly so when there is added the choice inducement of an exclusive 25 year gas franchise in the coming city of the Southwest.

This is an important matter. Already Ada is on the high road to prestige in the way of railroads and factories. With an abundant water supply the same as secured, there is yet another crying necessity prerequisite to Ada's industrial advancement. That's cheap fuel. Bountiful gas would solve the problem.

With so many competitors for the city franchise, the council should be able to choose a good one, a dependable developer who would dig deep and thoroughly ransack the bowels of the earth hereabouts for the precious fuel. Wouldn't it be fine to have a big gasser brought in about the time the new waterworks and the cement plant are finished?

This is something not lightly to be considered by the city fathers.

A GENIUS GONE.
In the passing of Sam Jones America loses one of the geniuses of the age. His was a colossal intellect, a personality most powerful. More than any other minister, he has had imitators—but never among them an equal. More than any other minister he has been abused and ridiculed. Sin he hated with such a deadly hate that he was ever thunderous in his denunciation of it. There were good critics who objected to Sam Jones' methods, but only little folk dared to dispute his genius or his consecration. His individuality must die with him, but his influence as one of the world's greatest moral reformers will abide forever.

THE Southern Republican complains that those "none too anxious to see that paper in the field" have scattered the false rumor that the Republican was "down and out," had "quit business." For fear the public might suspect the News—being a competitor—was referred to as having spread the report, we will say there has never been in the News' columns the slightest reference to the Republican's troubles. This, though reports of very fresh embarrassment and internal dissension besetting that paper, unsolicited, has come to the News office as straight as flies the crow. Some professional ethics prevail in the News sanctum.

Burton Must Go to Jail.

Washington, Oct. 16—The Supreme court of the United States yesterday denied the petition of former United States Senator Burton of Kansas for a rehearing in the case in which he is under sentence of fine and imprisonment on the charge of accepting attorney's fees in a case in which the government was interested while he was serving as senator.

The effect of yesterday's decision will be the immediate imprisonment of Mr. Burton unless his attorneys devise some other means of postponing the sentence.

HISTORY OF CASE
The case of Senator Burton has been before the court since 1903, when he was indicted in St. Louis on the charge of accepting a fee for representing the Rialto Grain company of this city in an effort to debar it from the use of the United States Mail.

He was found guilty and sentenced to serve six months in jail and pay a fine of $2,500. On appeal to the supreme court the decision was reversed on a technicality and a second trial was ordered. The second verdict was identical with the first and it was affirmed by the supreme court. This affirmation was announced just before the close of the term of court in May 1st. The motion for rehearing was then filed. It was alleged in Burton's behalf that the court had not had the real facts before it in considering the case.

Abilene, Kans. Oct. 16—Joseph R. Burton former United States senator from Kansas, when seen at his home by an Associated Press representative regarding the action of the United States Supreme court in refusing him a rehearing said:

"This is not my time to talk." Mr. Burton declined to talk of it. However it is said from an authoritative source that he has already communicated with his attorneys, asking that his term of imprisonment be arranged to begin at the earliest possible moment.

Some time ago Mr. Burton caused an official statement to be made by his attorneys that if the Supreme court denied him a hearing he would neither apply for a pardon nor accept one if it were tendered.

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the comptroller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grew out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

The title is catchy, and the play is said to be one of the best mountain pieces ever written. The characters are all typical of that romantic and beautiful part of the country—the mountains of North Carolina with a deadly feud existing between two families, finally ended by a bond of love stronger than the rugged old mountaineers sworn hatred—A Moonshiner for whom there is a large reward offered, and a scheming villain the best ever seen here.

Today he makes a trip to Denison, and tomorrow he will leave for Atlanta Georgia where he will be engaged in evangelistic work for a month.

HEAD OF U. S. ARMY QUIT.

LIEUT. GEN. CORBIN GOES ON THE RETIRED LIST.

Has Been in Active Service for 44 Years—Will Be Succeeded by Gen. MacArthur, Another Veteran of Two Wars.

Washington.—Lieut. Gen. Henry C. Corbin, U. S. A., chief of staff and lately in charge of the northern division of the army, with headquarters in St. Louis, has been placed on the retired list. Gen. Arthur MacArthur will succeed him as lieutenant general and chief of staff and Gen. A. W. Greely will succeed him in command-in-chief of the western army.

Gen. Corbin succeeded Gen. Bates as lieutenant general of the army in April last. He has been in active service since the year 1862, when he entered the volunteer army as second lieutenant of the Eighty-third Ohio infantry.

During the civil war the Ohio soldier rose to the rank of brevet brigadier general of volunteers. When the forces were recalled from the field Gen. Corbin was appointed to the regular service as a second lieutenant of the Seventeenth infantry. In 1880 he was transferred to the adjutant general's department, and he remained attached to that branch of the service, in name at least, until he became a lieutenant general.

For several years Gen. Corbin was stationed in Chicago. He was a lieutenant colonel and assistant adjutant general of the then division of the Missouri, when Gen. Miles commanded, with headquarters in Chicago.

The last Sioux war broke out in December, 1890, and Col. Corbin accompanied Gen. Miles to South Dakota, where headquarters were established in the field. At this time Miles and Corbin apparently were good friends, but afterward, when the former was promoted to the command of the army and the latter was made adjutant general, they clashed, and their differences at the Spanish war time were the subject of public comment.

Lieut. Gen. Corbin was the first officer of that rank since the general staff was formed who did not take the position of his chief. He preferred to take command elsewhere than in Washington, and he was assigned to the northern division of the army, with headquarters in St. Louis.

The general married a few years ago for the second time. He has built a handsome residence in Washington and will reside in this city in the future.

By direction of the president commissions have been prepared for Gen. MacArthur to be lieutenant general, Brig. Gen. Jesse M. Lee to be major general and Capt. John J. Pershing to be brigadier general. These promotions are made to fill vacancies incident to the retirement of Corbin.

Gen. J. Franklin Bell, who is the senior brigadier general, waived the promotion to the higher grade in order to give Gen. Lee an opportunity to reach it before he retired. Gen. Lee will retire next January and there would have been no vacancy in the grade of major general before that date had Gen. Bell been appointed. Gen. MacArthur is now commanding the division of the Pacific and will continue in that position.

Gen. Lee is now in command of the department of the Visayas. His promotion makes three major generals in the Philippines. It is expected that he will be given a command in the United States. Gen. Pershing is now the military attaché at the American embassy in Japan and it is expected that he will be given another assignment. He is a son-in-law of Senator Warren of Wyoming.

GEN. HENRY C. CORBIN. (Chief of Staff of Army Who Has Been Placed on Retired List.)

Gen. MacArthur is a veteran of two wars, having won distinction in the civil war and in the Philippines. He was born in Massachusetts, was taken by his parents to Milwaukee in his infancy, and there attended the public schools. At the age of 17 he was made first lieutenant in the Twenty-fourth Wisconsin, and when the civil war ended he was brevet colonel. For heroic actions he won promotion at various times, and for bravery at Missionary Ridge received a congressional medal. Entering the regular army, he was made brigadier general of volunteers in 1898 and speedily was promoted to be major general. From 1898 until 1901 he commanded in the Philippines, and later was at the head of the department of the lakes, subsequently commanding the division of the Pacific. He will be retired under the age limitation statute June 2, 1909.

TABLE DELICACIES. IN SHADED WINDOW

RECIPES FOR SOME SIMPLE APPETIZING DISHES.

Fish Cutlets Make a Welcome Change in the Menu—Jam Eclair—Ingredients in Preparation of Hash au Gratin.

Fish Cutlets.—These cutlets are made from cold boiled fish that has been freed from bones and flaked. Make a sauce from one cup of hot milk, one and one half level teaspoons of butter, and three level tablespoons of flour. Cook three minutes, season with salt and pepper, add the beaten yolk of an egg and a teaspoon of finely chopped parsley. Turn into two cups of flaked fish and stir. Cool the mixture or shape by hand. Dip in beaten egg and form into cutlets, using the tin form, then in fine bread crumbs and fry in deep hot fat. Drain on brown paper and garnish with parsley.

Jam Eclair.—Cook together one cup of water and one-quarter cup of butter, and as soon as the boiling point is reached stir in all at once one cup of flour and keep stirring until a ball is made that cleaves free from the sides of the saucepan. Set aside to cool, then add, one at a time, four eggs, beating the batter well between each addition. Drop the batter in long narrow strips two inches apart on a buttered tin and bake in a moderate oven about half an hour. Open a door a few minutes after they are done before taking them from the oven. If they are slowly and well cooked they will not fall. When cool cut open the side and fill with any kind of jam. Spread a little white frosting on the top of each.

Baked Liver.—Wash and wipe the liver dry. Cut a dozen match-like strips of salt pork and insert in gashes cut in the liver or use a larding needle. Dredge the liver with flour, sprinkle on a little salt and bake half an hour in a hot oven.

Thin Sugar Cookies.—Mix four slightly rounded tablespoons of sugar with three tablespoons of melted butter, two tablespoons of milk, one egg, two level teaspoons of baking powder and flour enough to roll out very thin. Cut in shape and bake.

Corn Sponge Cake.—Sift together two cups of cornmeal one cup of flour and one level teaspoon each of salt and soda. Beat three eggs with one level teaspoon of sugar, add the egg mixture to the flour, pour in two cups of sour milk and mix well. Bake in one loaf.

Hash au Gratin.—Chop cold cooked beef fine, season with salt and pepper and mix in the proportion of one cup of mashed potato to two cups of the meat. For this amount put half a cup of meat gravy in a saucepan, add a saltspoon of mixed mustard and a teaspoon of pepper. Heat and put in meat and potato and stir until heated thoroughly. Turn into a buttered baking dish, cover thickly with fine bread crumbs, dot with butter and brown slightly in the oven.

Blueberry Meringue Pie.—Stir one rounded tablespoon of flour into one cup of sugar, add one tablespoon of lemon juice and the beaten yolks of two eggs, a saltspoon of salt. Mix well, then add three cups of blueberries and mix all lightly together. Fill a pie plate lined with good crust and bake in a moderate oven. When done cool a little, then frost with the whites of two eggs beaten stiff with two heaping teaspoons of sugar, and brown lightly.

Vegetarian Mince Pie.—Wash, core and chop fine, 12 apples, add one cup of water, a little cinnamon and nutmeg, grated rind of a lemon, one cup of sweet cider, one cup of sugar, butter the size of an egg, one cup of seeded raisins, cook till tender, let it cool, then fill the pies and bake till the crust is brown.

To Stain Oak Color.—Dissolve five cents' worth of brown polish in one quart of hot water, then add as much brown umber and yellow ochre as will give the shade desired by at least two applications. Apply hot, wipe off while still wet with a piece of rag, finishing in the direction of the grain. There is a method of staining and varnishing in one operation, but the more satisfactory way is to stain the wood first, then apply the varnish or polish. The colors mentioned can be purchased ground in water, in which state simply mixing them with beer or vinegar makes good stains at small cost. By this one can tighten the sashes.

Apple Sherbet Recipe.—For apple sherbet use one pound of sugar, juice of two lemons, one pound of apples, one quart of water. Put the sugar and water and the rind of one lemon, chopped, on to boil. Pare, core and quarter the apples, add them to the syrup and cook until tender; then press through a fine sieve, add the juice of the lemons, and when cold freeze the same as ice cream. Beat the white of one egg until frothy, then add a tablespoonful of powdered sugar, and beat until white and stiff. Remove the dasher, stir in the meringue, re-pack and stand aside until wanted.

Chocolate Cake.—One cup of butter and two cups of sugar stirred to a cream, with the yolks of five eggs added after they have been well beaten. Stir this into one cup of milk. Beat the whites of two of the eggs to a stiff froth and add that also. Now put in three and a half cups of sifted flour, two heaping teaspoonfuls of baking powder having been sifted with it. Bake in jelly tins. This gives one large layer cake or two small ones.

PLANTS MOST FITTED FOR SUCH A SITUATION.

Common White Petunia One of the Best, and Easy to Cultivate—Fuchsia and Calla Are Also Satisfactory—The Best Ferns.

The common white petunia makes a really charming plant for use in a shaded window. It is of the easiest culture. For winter blooming it should be planted now. Give it moderately rich soil, just enough water to keep the soil moist, and a weekly bath to keep its foliage clean, and it will bloom profusely.

When the branches seem to have exhausted themselves by the constant production of flowers cut them back to within a foot of the pot. In a short time new branches will be sent forth, and they will bear flowers of as fine size and as great profusion as a young plant would be likely to give. No plant can be renewed more easily or with better results.

The fuchsia is one of the most satisfactory plants for a sunless window. If it is kept from blooming in the summer it will begin to bloom as soon as brought into the house in the fall. Give it a sandy loam and frequent showerings.

The calla is a very satisfactory flower to grow in the shade. Its great luxuriant leaves are attractive in themselves, and when to these are added the pure white beauty of the flower it forms an ideal plant for the sunless window.

The white azalea gives a vast amount of pleasure if the room in which it is kept can be regulated as to heat and moisture.

To grow it well the air must never be dry and warm enough to exhaust the vitality of the plant. Fresh air should be admitted daily, and the temperature of the room should be kept low.

Begonias are particularly well adapted to a sunless window and bloom with great profusion.

The rubber plant does well in the shade. So will nearly all of the palms.

The best ferns for the sunless windows are the sword fern and the Pteris tremula.

Asparagus plumosus is another plant with foliage as dainty as lace in texture, yet having the merit of standing heat and dryness of the atmosphere very well. It requires a sandy loam, a moderate amount of water, and frequent showerings. It is an especially decorative plant.

USE FOR OLD MAGAZINES.

Pictures Will Bring Joy to Hearts of Sick Children.

Don't throw away all your summer magazines, with all their pretty-colored covers. When you have finished reading them put them away in some closet or other convenient spot until next December.

Then you will have a great collection of pretty pictures to cut out and paste on colored cards for distribution in the children's hospitals and orphan asylums. For little children, especially those ill in bed, nothing is more wanted by those in charge of them than a set of attractive pictures easily handled.

Often books are too heavy or unwieldy for the little hands to hold, while the cards are both pretty and convenient. You can cut them in any shape or size you like, when you make them up, put on fancy lettering, or paste on the little Christmas seals, but if you throw away your magazines all summer you won't have much material to work on next winter when the spirit of good-will begins to move your heart to charitable expression.

Disinfecting a Room.

To disinfect a room get a large-sized metal bath, and partly fill with water. Partly fill a pail with water, and stand in the bath. On the pail place an old metal tray, and see that it stands firmly. On the tray put two or three pounds of powdered sulphur moistened with methylated spirit. Have all apertures, save your door of exit, closely shut, and all their crevices stopped. Set fire to the sulphur. When you have quit the room attend to the door. Open 12 hours later. Although this reads very simply the matter is not so satisfactory as might be supposed. Wall papers, and not seldom colored fabrics are damaged by the fumes, so care must be used.

Egg Cutlets.

Egg cutlets need first a very thick sauce made with one-quarter of a cupful of flour and one pint of milk. Season with ten drops of onion juice, a teaspoonful of salt, one-third of a teaspoonful of white pepper, a dash of cayenne and two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley. Stir into this six hard-boiled eggs cut fine, turn on a greased dish and set away until cold and firm. Mold in cutlets, dip each in an egg and fine dry bread crumbs and fry golden brown in smoking hot deep fat. Drain well on soft paper and stick a tuft of parsley in the bone end of each cutlet.

Delicious Peach Butter.

Select mellow yellow peaches. Pare and stone. Weigh, and to every pound allow three-quarters of a pound of sugar. Put the peaches in a porcelain-lined kettle; heat slowly. Mash and stir the peaches until perfectly smooth; then press through a fine sieve; add the sugar and boil for 15 minutes, stirring constantly. Put into small jars and tie up.

New York Financiers Converted by Wave of Religion—Big Pay Roll of City—Countess de Rilly Seeks Divorce—Big Bore Completed—Other Interesting News.

NEW YORK.—With the remarkable achievement of having converted Wall street to his credit, Rev. William Wilkinson, street preacher, has ended his labors in the financial district and will seek other fields for his evangelistic labors. While few have suspected the reformation that was going on among the men who promote trusts, water stocks and strip the fleece from the guileless lamb, it is said confidently that the work has been thorough and that Wall street has resolved to go and sin no more.

Men of millions as well as clerks, messenger boys and truckmen, went to old Trinity church to say farewell to Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, who has gained the title of "Rector of Wall Street," and he closed there one of the most remarkable missions ever known in New York or anywhere else.

For five days a week Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, who often calls himself plain "Wilkinson," has stood at the noon hour in front of the custom-house and those of every station in life have stopped in the midst of the temples of Mammon to listen to him. Bankers, brokers and merchants have sought him out after his services and have invited the evangelist of the street to their homes. They have taken him to luncheon, offered him the use of their offices and have done everything possible to help him.

Chief among those who have accorded recognition to the missionary is James Stillman, the president of the National City bank and one of the leaders of finance.

Following the lead of Mr. Stillman, others in the street did all they could to accord to the evangelist recognition and support. Hundreds of those prominent in the commercial and the financial worlds, now count themselves his parishioners. Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews are all the same to him, and on his "attendance committee" the "Rector of Wall Street" has representatives of all races and all creeds.

Few who saw Rev. Mr. Wilkinson begin his missionary labors in the street would have believed that he would have obtained such a following. Those who are familiar with evangelistic work thought that he could not have chosen a less promising field, but in less than a week he had all Wall street listening to him. There is nothing of the hackneyed revivalist in his methods of preaching, and all his appeals were directed to reason and to the higher ideals of men.

CITY PAYS MILLIONS TO EMPLOYEES.

The city of New York has 60,948 employees on its pay roll. The total pay roll is $57,068,253.13. This fact appears from a report submitted to the board of estimate by the commission named by the mayor early in the year to reclassify and regrade all the employees in the city departments. The commission was composed of Joseph Haag, secretary of the board, and the various secretaries of the members of the board of estimate.

The report of the commission shows that the slackest sort of methods prevail in the establishing of titles and in the correspondence of the titles to the civil service regulations. The commission reports that the same position and grades have been created by the same departments several times since January 1, 1902, and that the titles created do not in many instances correspond exactly with the titles used in the civil service regulation, thereby creating much confusion.

Different salaries are being paid to persons holding the same title and performing the same grade of work. A general reclassification and regarding of the places of all departments is recommended, one of these being a chemist for the finance department at $3,000 a year. The corporation counsel wants a first assistant at $12,000 a year, four assistants at $10,000 a year, two junior assistants at $2,550 and two at $2,250. The commissioners of accounts want a chief engineer at $6,000 and an examining engineer at $3,500.

COUNTRESS TIRES OF SECOND HUSBAND.

Countess Eugenia De Rilly, otherwise known as Mrs. George Shroter and presently the wife of George Shroter, mining expert of Denver, Col., has left Mr. Shroter and is about to appeal to the courts for a divorce.

The former countess left Mr. Shroter because he refused to spend his good money to redeem the de Rilly estate. The de Rilly properties and titles are regarded as an asset by the government of Greece, and the count, taking the official view of the case, had mortgaged them to the limit.

Countess de Rilly began a suit for divorce some little time ago in this city. The count did not contest and after the decree was granted the countess married Mr. Shroter.

According to the countess, Shroter is of noble birth and could have a German title if he cared to pay for it. Also according to the countess, Mr. Shroter refused to buy a German title or to settle the mortgages hanging over the de Rilly estate in Greece.

For a time Mrs. Shroter bore her tribulations in silence, but finally the refusal of her husband to buy anything in the way of a title angered her and she refused to accompany him about town.

She stated that he ate like a pig. That his "form" was distinctly bad, and that he bore no resemblance to a gentleman.

Mr. Shroter bore this for a time and then there followed a scene. The beautiful countess gathered up her dainty skirts and, leaving her magnificent apartment, took up her residence at the Hotel Seville.

It is said that she will remain there until she has made application for divorce, and is quite free to look for another title and some money.

MORE LAWYERS HIRED FOR THAW.

Two additional lawyers have been retained for the defense of Harry Thaw. The lawyers are John H. Iselin and Howard S. Gans. The latter was formerly an assistant under District Attorney Jerome.

Gans and Iselin will be associated with "Cliff" Hartridge in the defense of Thaw. Mr. Iselin stated that it had not yet been decided who would conduct Thaw's defense at the trial. He admitted that David T. Watson, of Pittsburg, would be retained as an advisory counsel.

A notice of motion has been served on Assistant District Attorney Garvin by counsel for Thaw that in the supreme court, they would make a motion for the removal of the indictment for murder in the first degree against Thaw from the court of general sessions to the supreme court.

Accompanying the notice were two affidavits signed by Thaw's counsel. One by Hartridge is to the effect that his client wants a speedy trial because the case has caused widespread discussion. The second affidavit is signed by John B. Gleason and states that in a recent talk with District Attorney Jerome he was informed that owing to the large number of cases on the calendar Thaw would not be tried until the middle of November.

BORE UNDER NORTH RIVER COMPLETED.

The first train to run under the North river from New York to New Jersey made its trip the other day, 6,000 feet from shore line to shore line.

The two ends of the great North river tunnel which the Pennsylvania road has been building were brought together.

When the two ends were connected it was found they met in perfect alignment, and the most sanguine anticipations of the engineers in charge of the work were realized. Indeed, it might be said that these anticipations were more than realized, for the running of the first train took place just one year ahead of scheduled time.

The rapidity of the construction work is all the more remarkable because of the unforeseen obstacles that were encountered as the work progressed. The divergent rock and soil formations through which the tunnel had to be carved were responsible for much unlooked-for trouble, together with the dangers encountered through the piercing of gas pockets and other natural hindrances.

There still remains much detail work to be accomplished, and it will be a long time still before the long tubes are ready for the regular traffic of the road, but the tunnel is an accomplished fact. For the first time a man can walk dry shod from Jersey to Manhattan.

The work has been under the personal direction of Charles M. Jacobs, chief engineer. It is said of him that he has had to do with the building of more tunnels than any man now living. His principal assistant was James Forgie.

WEST POINT CADET A HERO.

Endures Two Months of Remarkable Suffering to Return to Academy.

West Point.—Cadet J. Walter Wilde, of Hazleton, has returned to West Point, which he never expected to en-

J. WALTER WILDE. (West Point Cadet Who Went Through Tortures to Be a Soldier.)

ter again. He returns with the reputation of a hero, for he has proved that he has been able to bear the most excruciating suffering with fortitude, and all for love of the service of Uncle Sam.

Cadet Wilde was appointed in the spring of 1905 by President Roosevelt. Last fall while at home on a visit his horse fell, rolled on him and broke his leg. After it was set and healed it had shrunk several inches. The deformity prevented his reentering to the academy.

Broken hearted, he went to see eminent physicians. They told him there was only one way in which the leg could be restored to the normal length, and they did not believe it possible any man could stand the pain of the operation. It would last for weeks and weeks.

Wilde declared he would stand anything in order to get back to West Point, so last March he went to the Polyclinic hospital in Philadelphia. Dr. John B. Roberts rebroke the leg, put it in a plaster-of-paris cast, hoisted at right angles with the boy's recumbent body, and to it by means of pulleys was fastened 300 pounds. Wilde's body was strapped to the bed so that the weight would not lift him up.

In that position, unable to move, with the weight dragging constantly at every muscle and tendon in his leg, he lay for two months. The pain was intense and constant; for days at first he could not sleep. Later he managed to obtain some restless naps. But he bore his sufferings with great fortitude and never whimpered. He was strong in the faith that the operation would be successful and that he would be able to return to West Point.

His faith was justified. At the end of two months the leg was found to have been stretched to its normal length. Then his recovery was rapid, and now there is in his walk no evidence that he was ever injured.

STRANGE, BEAUTIFUL CAVES.

New York.—The most beautiful natural caves in the world are in New South Wales. They are only partially explored, because many of them are remote from any railway. Those at Jenolan can be seen in part in a trip of three or four days from Sydney, but only a glimpse of their marvelous beauties can be obtained unless one has plenty of time at one's disposal and an extensive camping outfit.

One of the most beautiful, the River cave, takes its name from the presence of an underground waterway or lake 100 feet wide, which must be crossed in a boat. The cave itself is 400 feet long, and contains some of the most magnificent formation in the whole group. Its walls are chocolate-colored, and dotted over with transparent "mysteries."

The caverns are surprisingly beautiful, and are decorated from end to end. There are "shawls" eight feet in diameter, massive fluted columns 30 feet high; clear pools with crystal floors 15 feet in diameter, and "shawls" with translucent white bands, alternating with very dark bands. The variety of tints exhibited by the formations is not equalled in any cave in Jenolan. For mysterious beauty, variety and grandeur it is difficult to imagine anything to surpass the caverns of the new branches of the Lucas cave.

Illiteracy Her Great Regret.

Mrs. Betty Brookes, who has lived ninety-three and a half years in the same cottage at Edgelyd, Worsley, near Manchester, England, declares that her keenest regret is that there was no compulsory education in her younger days, for she never learned to read.

Big and Little Possessions.

Gibraltar is the smallest British possession. It measures less than two square miles. Canada is the biggest, with 3,746,000 square miles.
